

Raising awareness on the environment

Boga & Associates on 23rd of May 2014 joined Green Line Albania in a nationwide initiative to clean the Albanian coast line in one day. Our team efforts were centered on the cleanup of one of Durres most populated and polluted beach, 'Vollga-Currila'. Raising awareness on environmental issues by giving a personal example is in the focus of Boga & Associates in this 20th anniversary of the firm. Recycling of office waste, paper and toners is also an effort of the firm to preserve the environment.

Albania welcomes on average 3.5 million visitors each year, who are attracted by the country's beautiful beaches, mountains and landscapes. However, pollution levels in Albanian coast line recently have reached worryingly high rates, with several public beaches being forced to close after becoming too dirty. Although the cause of this damage can be varied, much of the pollution is created by visitors leaving behind plastic and organic waste.
